Fire in the kitchen and fun at the convention

Snow and cold and a fire in the hotel kitchen didn't keep "Coin-Op Fever," the fourth annual Music Operators of Minnesota convention and trade show, from being the hit of the year. Close to 200 persons braved the slippery roads to attend the event, held January 19-21 at the Holiday Inn-Downtown, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

This year's convention mixed business with a lot of excitement, a hearty dose of good-hearted fun, and even some surprises. The special promotion, for four big prizes, outperformed last year's fund raiser and turned the annual banquet into a grand time for all.

The convention started with a board of directors meeting, followed by the annual President's Reception. The second day of the show was highlighted by a wild and electrifying jumble of lights, machines, music, and noise. The show was covered by three local television stations and the St. Paul Dispatch, generating a good deal of favorable publicity for the association and the industry.

Attendees and exhibitors alike appreciated the different set-up this year, with the machines placed around the perimeter of the room. Exhibitors included R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Hanson Distributing Company, Lieberman Music Company, National Vendors, Sandler Vending Company, Arachnid, Inc., Montana Billiard Supply, WICO, Abloy Security Locks, Brainerd Vocational Technical School, and a M.O.M. booth manned by directors to promote the new statewide pool tournament and AMOA mechanics school.

A serious note was struck at the winter luncheon and business meeting when AMOA Assistant Executive Vice President Vic Rye discussed a number of key issues, including the new Copyright Law. He gave the operators an update on AMOA's current legal actions against disclosure of location lists, but warned them that the law is currently in effect and that failure to comply could lead to court action and cancellation of licenses.

Rye also told the operators that communications was the number one function of the association and that it was important for operators to belong to both their state and national associations.

During the business session that followed, Martin Kallsen of Martin Music Company, Worthington, was re-elected president and Darrel Weber of Weber Music Company, Blue Earth, was re-elected vice president of the Minnesota group. Newly elected officers were Al Eggermont, Jr., of Music Service Company, Marshall, secretary, and Steve Dahlin, Dahlco Music and Vending, St. Paul, treasurer.

Three new directors were ap-

AMOA Mechanics school off to flying start

Mechanics School Program is off to a flying start, with schools already held in Long Island, New York; Chicago, Illinois; and Bridgeport, Connecticut. More schools are scheduled for Great Falls, Montana; Portland, Oregon; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Oakland, California; Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio; and White Plains, New York.

AMOA's instructor is Don Miller, a nationally known expert in the field with many years of teaching experience.

The classes are held for ten straight days, including Saturday and Sunday. Students begin with fundamentals and progress to proper "shopping" procedures, trouble-shooting techniques, and preventive maintenance. Reading and understanding schematics is stressed. All circuits are followed and explained many times. The sequence of operation is covered using the schematic to determine how the machines operate. Each session is designed to benefit the beginner as well as the experienced service man.

Tuition is $200 per student, and registration is held to not more than 20 students.

State associations are encouraged to sponsor AMOA Mechanics Schools. For more information, contact Vic Rye at AMOA Headquarters, Chicago, phone (312) 726-2810.

Atari appoints Irish distributor

Atari, Inc. has appointed Quintin Flynn Ltd. as an international distributor.

The principals of the company, headquartered in Dublin, have years of experience and extensive backgrounds in the amusement games industry. The firm will represent Atari's full product line to operators in Ireland.

Flintin Quinn and Shamus Flynn, principals of the distributorship, were present at the recent Amusement Trades Exhibition show in London and met with Atari representatives to finalize the arrangements. Atari products will be available through the two regional offices of Quintin Flynn in Belfast and Limerick; as well as the company's headquarters in Dublin.

Operators in Ireland were invited to a special show (held January 31 to February 3) where the official new distributorship was formally announced. The line of new Atari products was presented at the show for review by Quintin Flynn customers.

proved by the membership. They were Dob Awe, Harold Awe Company, Inc., St. Paul; Phil Smith, Perry Amusement Company, St. Louis Park; and Lee VonderHaar, Hanson Vending and Music, Brainerd. The slate of candidates was presented by Vern Ness, chairman of the nominating committee, and approved by a unanimous ballot.

The most exciting part of the convention came that night, with the special reception, annual banquet, entertainment, and drawing of prizes in the special promotion. Numbered ping pong balls were set to rolling under the watchful eye of the Al Eggermont, and the actual drawing for the various prizes was done by women in attendance.

Prize winners in the special promotion were Curt Amundson of Sun Music Company, Faribault, a Valley electric drop shoot bonus pool table donated by Sandler Vending Company, Minneapolis; Harlow Norberg of C&N Sales Company, Inc., Mankato, a Dynamo 92-inch pool table donated by Lieberman Music Company, Minneapolis; Dave Hawkins, D&R/Star, Rochester, a Stern Dracula solid state pinball machine donated by Lieberman; and Ray Hibarger, Hanson Distributing Company, Bloomington, an Atari Skyrider solid state game, also donated by Lieberman.

Hibarger promptly donated his prize back to the association and took to the podium as auctioneer. The machine was purchased by Dave Hawkins of D&R/Star.

Plaques were awarded to twelve members of M.O.M.'s 1979 President's Club. They are Advance-Carter Company, Minneapolis; C&N Sales Inc., Mankato; D&R/Star, Rochester; Dahlco Music & Vending, St. Paul; Hanson Distributing Company, Bloomington; Lieberman Music Company, Minneapolis; Martin Music Company, Worthington; National Amusement Company, Minneapolis; Sandler Vending Company, Minneapolis; Twin City Novelty Company, Minneapolis; Twin Ports Vending & Amusement Company, Duluth; and Weber Music Company, Blue Earth.

A special plaque was awarded to Al Eggermont, Jr., for his outstanding services in organizing M.O.M.'s special promotions. The association also honored three members of the board who retired in January: Bob Kervina of Twin Ports Vending & Amusement Company, Duluth; Jess Farkas of Twin City Novelty Company, Minneapolis; and Doug Smart of Northern Amusement Company, Bemidji.

The evening was topped off with drawing for door prizes donated by D&R Industries, Arachnid, Sandler Vending Company, Lieberman Music Company, Lieberman-45 Dept., Sunbird, R.J. Reynolds Company, Brown Brothers, and WICO.

Entertainment was by "The Weekenders," a musical group from Faribault that switched with ease from pop to country and old time. The entertainment was arranged by Larry Ruegemer and sponsored by Lieberman-45 Dept., Minneapolis. Hanson Distributing Company, Minneapolis, assisted in sponsoring the prebanquet reception.

The convention closed Sunday with a buffet breakfast and an address by Felicia Tornabene, research and service associate for Bally Manufacturing on "A Break-Even Analysis for Location Costs."
